Cutbacks are only alternative

Mayor English vows not to raise taxes despite federal cuts

The Elba City Council met in regular session on Monday afternoon, August 11, at City Hall and heard Mayor Bob English pledge to cut back wherever possible when planning the city's budget for the coming year in an attempt to prevent the addition of any taxes. "I will talk to all department heads as I work on the budget and together we will try to find places to cut back in order to save money," English said. "Right now we are planning to hold a public auction to get rid of some city vehicles not needed, and in coming weeks cuts will also be discussed in all city departments. The citizens of Elba can, and will, get first quality service from the various city departments; however, cuts will have to be made to balance out the loss in funds due to federal cutbacks. "I don't think the people of Elba want to pay any more taxes, and by cutting back on items and services not essential to everyday use this can be accomplished. Next year's budget will be lean, but it will be one we can all live with." The bi-monthly meeting began at 5:00, with all members present except John W. Sharpless. Present were Mayor English and council members Gladys Yelverton, Frances Trammell Williams, Jack Prescott and Malcolm Davis. After the routine approval of minutes of the July 28 meeting, the mayor reported that representatives of Wasteway, a private garbage collection firm, would not be able to attend and would be at the next meeting to discuss the possibility of taking over the city's garbage collection. Also planned to attend the next meeting will be representatives of Scientific Industries, another garbage collection service interested in operating a service in Elba.

Elba Police Chief John Ed White introduced two new members of the Elba Police Dept. to the council and stated, "We are lucky to have men of this caliber on our police force." The new policemen are Wesley Devane and Michael Patrick, both of Elba, who are already on patrol. The addition of the two policemen brings the force within two of being at full staff.

Chief White also reported that two members of the police force had recently attended a PEI School in Selma to become certified in administering a blood/alcohol test. Patrolman Dale Cobb attended a one-day course to renew his certification, while Donnie Byrd was one of 20 officers attending a week-long course and ranked first in the class.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the council heard Mayor English report that the monthly bills were the highest in several months, totaling over $21,000, and that the new swimming pool was losing approximately $225 per week after showing a profit earlier in the summer.

County Commission approves road

resurfacing projects at cost of $204,000

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, August 11, at the courthouse in Elba and after taking a long look at the financial status of the county highway department's paving fund accepted low bids on two paving projects.

Couch, Inc., with a low bid of $65,757, received a contract to resurface County Road 80, from Highway 87 to County Road 82, while Wiregrass Construction, with a low bid of $59,765, received a contract to resurface County Road 54, from County Road 11 to County Road 141.

County Engineer Mac Rushing told the commission that while there was currently $176,000 in the account to do resurfacing, an additional $38,000 would be received in September, for a total of $214,000. The two contracts let Monday totaled $125,522, which would leave $88,478 for doing resurfacing work at other places in the county.

The commission will open bids on the additional resurfacing projects at the next meeting. Rushing also told the commission that it would cost over $7,000 to repair a loader used at the landfill, bringing the total repair bill for the machine to $25,000 for the past year. The commission decided not to repair the machine at this time and instead instructed the engineer to send out bids on a garbage compactor, offering the loader as a trade-in. The bid will seek four prices, all based on various trade-ins and/or lease-purchase options.

While discussing the landfill, the commission stated it would reinstate dumping fees immediately for private contractors, while continuing to allow rural residents to dump free of charge.

The rates charged to the cities using the landfill will soon increase, as city and county officials agreed to share the operating costs of the landfill.

Under the new plan, set to begin Oct. 1, 1986, expenses will be based on population. Enterprise, with 46.8 percent of the county's population, will be charged $6,474.08 per month to use the landfill, while Elba (11.3 percent) will pay $1,563.19 per month and New Brockton (3.6 percent) will pay a monthly fee of $498.

Rural areas combine to make up 38 percent of the population and the commission will be responsible for a $5,298.24 monthly fee.

Likeness of George Washington

Carver to be unveiled Aug. 17

A likeness of Dr. George Washington Carver will be unveiled in the Enterprise Civic Center when the Pea River Historical Society meets Sunday afternoon, August 17, at 3 o'clock.

The program will complete a project of the society for several years to this man for his many years of work promoting the usage of the peanut.

The Carver exhibit will later be housed and shown in the Depot Museum of the Society. The principal address at the program will be given by Dr. Daniel F. Williams, architect of Tuskegee Institute, where Dr. Carver spent his many years of research on agricultural products.

Included in the visitors expected is artist/sculptor Mr. Larry Godwin of Brundidge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Bob) Godwin, founders of Bob's Feeds and former Enterprise natives.

Clayton Metcalf, Society president stated that the public is invited.

Group of upset parents meet with Elba City School Board

The Elba City School Board gathered at 5 p.m. Thursday for their regular monthly meeting and were greeted by 14 upset parents. These parents of high school students had a complaint, and when they indicated it involved a particular teacher, Chairman Bill Cowart noted the law required such matters be discussed in executive session.

A 45-minute session with the parents bringing the complaint appeared to be successful. As the parents were leaving their faces had lost the tense look and it had been replaced with smiles and repeated thanks to the board members. While the subject discussed in such meetings is privileged, board members indicated they would look into the matter and felt a solution was possible and highly probable.

The financial statement was reviewed by board members and the figures looked grim. In spite of July being a summer month and expenditures normally smaller, the balance in the general fund also dropped. The first month of the proration hit in July and the school ended the month with $30,000 less than it had at the first of the month. Supt. C. W. Crews expressed an opinion that it would get worse before it got better. The school received $149,088.62 and spent $177,772.47.

Bids were reviewed and low bids accepted on food items to be used in the three lunchrooms during the coming school year. Crews told board members that the bids were down an average of five percent. One exception to this was the increase in pork products. Bidders included Alabama Wholesale, Elba Packing Co., W.J. Powell and Springfield Foods.

The board accepted the resignation of Joanne Lindsey from the high school. Her letter to the board indicated she was moving from the area as her husband had accepted a position in Daleville.

Rhonda Hussey Little was hired to teach science, chemistry and physics. Crews said she is certified to teach all three.

The board adopted the pay schedule used last year, with no increase in pay for teachers or support personnel.

Board members and Supt. Crews agreed before adjourning that they would attempt to solve "the problem" presented by the 14 parents, and if it was solved, would return to a special meeting to hear the reasons for not eliminating the problem.

Brainstorms

With Ferrin Cox

Alabama still doesn't have a Democratic candidate for governor. We don't expect one this time next week either. That thing will drag around in court until even the candidate who finally gets the nod won't be satisfied. Last week an out-of-state "friend" presented me with a picture of an Alabama Democrat. We will not reprint it here, but here is a brief word picture for our readers. The mule was a composite of two mules and neither part contained the head end of the mule.

The Alabama Health Department announced last week they were discontinuing inspections of restaurants and delaying other matters normal for the health department. All this is due to the shortage of state money to fund the various departments. We fail to understand how this will do any money. The employees who make these inspections will continue to get their paychecks... I hope. Now what are they going to do for this salary if not the job they are hired to do. It must be another political ploy to force the lawmakers to pass a tax.

While on the matter of taxes, we have two suggestions to improve the tax coffers. One would be to collect sales tax on items purchased from out-of-state mail order houses. Several states have entered into agreements to collect these taxes and it is working. Another area is to make those who collect the sales tax send it all to the state. There is no exact way to assign sales tax to portions of a dollar to come up with the assisted four-cent state tax and whatever county or city tax we must pay. Some states make thousands of dollars on this very fact. We have routinely paid 4 cents on a $0.04 purchase at some stores. This would give them an 8-cent payment on sales tax and they only send the state and city 6 cents. We saw an estimate one time that would boggle your mind on this total statewide on all stores. I would need a state law for both of these, but then we are already paying lawmakers to do just that.

Coffee County is charging some folks one thing, others another thing and some nothing. This is the status of the collections to the county landfill for household garbage. Enterprise is getting by with charging residents only 50 cents and keeping a dime of that for themselves. Elba is paying 75 cents per household and county residents are paying nothing. No person has been able to fully explain this, but it ain't right. We are willing to pay our way, but we are not willing to pay your way also. We would like to know WHY this checkerboard has been allowed to exist. A closing comment is our observation that the county landfill/garbage collection has been an utter failure since it began under mandate of the federal government. We have watched it from the first federal grant and it has been terrible.

There is a federal drug law that allows seizure of property used in drug deals or purchased with profits from drug sales. It has raised havoc with accused drug dealers as they have seen homes, boats, farms, and other major investments taken by the government and sold. Now in New York they have taken another step. Cars driven by purchasers of drugs are being seized under the same law. This means if you buy a "nickel bag" or whatever they call it, you might better walk the last mile to the hot spot and keep walking for another mile... that is, if you have a decent car and don't want some of us straight bragging about the bargain we got in a government car auction.

Vice President George Bush is presently the leading Republican candidate for the nomination as the next president. We thought this all along, but now voters in Michigan have confirmed the fact. As they went to the polls last week to name delegates to a convention, the Bush supporters took a commanding lead. We had frankly been a bit concerned that TV preacher Pat Robertson might have enough exposure to the public (and donated money) to mess this up, but he came in kind behind. We have watched as many white politicians have taken Jesse Jackson's political success to mean you can win if you want. But in a few times. Now we see that it isn't always so and are a bit relieved. Our relief is in both the political area and the religious department. We don't want to confuse the two at all. If you are talking politics, talk politics and do so without trying to convince us you are ordained by God to take your political position. Conversely, if you are going to preach, keep your personal politics out of the pulpit. Be involved - but don't reveal a vested interest in the outcome.

The USFL lost the big lawsuit to make folks help them be successful. Now we will have pro football from the National Football League, with some faces transposed from the USFL. We agree with the jury that there was no damage due to the new league just because someone else was successful and they ain't. After all that chatter we come back and admit we are burned out on pro football anyway and it really doesn't matter if they have one game a day or fifty.

Tax reform continues to dominate the news out of Washington. It seems they are busy figuring out ways to close another loophole. The plan was to eliminate the deduction for interest on car loans, etc., and only allow deductions for home loans. This meant you could take a second mortgage on your house and deduct the interest. Now they are working to remove this and only the interest on the original cost of the home and later improvements will be allowed. There will probably be one or two exceptions but we predict most of us can expect higher taxes... not lower. As the saying goes, "The most dreaded thing in the country is a person who comes in and says, 'I'm from the government and I am here to help you.'"

School starts soon. We need to keep this in mind as we drive around town or down the highways. A little extra caution is never wasted. If you think you are in a hurry, consider the time you would lose if you had to fill out a lot of traffic accident reports because you injured a school child... or worse, watched one being taken to the funeral home. Be careful, 'cause we love these loud, laughing, carefree friends of ours and want them to be around next week.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I wish to correct an error printed in The Elba Clipper. The Claude Dorsey, Jr. Scholarship was not an endowment of the will of Claude Dorsey, Jr., who has been deceased since 1957. The scholarship is a memorial set up by his wife, Katherine H. Dorsey. The program was outlined in 1960, but did not become active until 1961.

For twenty five years, Katherine H. Dorsey has been present at the scholarship meetings in Birmingham to interview scholarship hopefuls. In these twenty five years, over one hundred second year medical students, many from the Wiregrass area, have received aid in obtaining their medical education from the Claude Dorsey, Jr. Scholarship.

Miss Parker Becomes Bride Of Mr. Daniels In Victoria

Miss Sherry Diane Parker and Mr. Tim Daniels were united in marriage on Saturday, June 28, 1986, at one o'clock in the afternoon in Victoria Baptist Church, with the Rev. Larry Doster officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Jackie Parker of Enterprise and Ms. Mozelle Parker of Rt. 1, Elba. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Sexton, all of Elba.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Daniels of Elba, and the grandson of Mrs. Ovie Daniels of Elba, and the late Mr. J.S. Daniels, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gaines of Brantley.

A large arrangement of pink and white gladioli and pink and white daisies centered the altar area. Green ferns on each side of the altar further enhanced the beauty of the sanctuary.

The traditional wedding march was played on the piano by Mrs. Deborah Sullivan. Vocal selections, "To Me," "The Wind Beneath My Wings," and "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" were sung by Stephen and Debbie McCollough, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Each mother lit a candle of the unity group before being seated, and the bride and groom lit the central candle together during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Jackie Parker. She wore a gown of bridal satin fashioned with a round satin-ruffled neckline edged in Venice lace, and short puffed sleeves, finished with Galloon lace. Satin rosettes decorated the shoulders of the gown.

The fitted waist was enhanced with a silk cummerbund, which ended in a large streamer bow in the back.

The tiered skirt featured satin ruffles ending in Galloon lace, and was accented with satin rosettes.

Her mid-length veil of organza was edged in Galloon lace and with a pink carnation.

attached to a headpiece applied with Galloon lace and accented with rosebuds.

The entire bridal ensemble was made by the bride's mother.

The bride's bouquet, fashioned on a white background, was composed of white silk sweetheart roses, pink stephanotis, white carnations, baby's breath and greenery with white satin streamers.

Miss Stephanie Sexton, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a pink satin floor-length dress, with large rosettes accenting the shoulders, and a skirt featuring pickup rosettes at intervals near the bottom.

Flower girl was little Miss Tiffany Farris. She wore a white eyelet lace dress with pink ribbon at the waist, and carried a white wicker basket of pink and white mum petals. Her headpiece was of pink and white daisies and baby's breath.

The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo with pink cummerbund and pink bow tie, and wore a pink rosebud boutonniere.

Serving the groom as best man was David Daniels, his cousin, who wore a gray tux with pink cummerbund and pink bow tie. Ringbearer was Wade Parker, brother of the bride, who was dressed identical to the best man.

Other attendants and ushers were Joseph McCollough and Lavin Chappell, who also wore gray tuxes with pink cummerbunds, pink bowties and pink rosebud boutonnieres.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Parker, wore a street-length mauve chiffon dress, and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Daniels, mother of the groom, was dressed in a street-length candlelight linen dress and wore a white carnation corsage.

Registering guests was Susan Sims.

The registry table was covered in a white satin cloth with a white lace overlay and featured a bud vase with a pink carnation.

RECEPTION

The bride and groom was honored at a reception in the fellowship hall of the church, following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over a white linen undershirt. An arrangement of pink carnations and greenery, with baby's breath and a pink candle as centerpiece served as decoration on one end of the bride's table.

The other end held the three-tiered heart-shaped bride's cake with columns separating tiers and wedding bells adorning each layer. Tiny rosebuds with green leaves and white scalloped roping adorned the cake and a miniature bride and groom rested on the top layer. Miniature attendants descended lacy staircases to smaller heart-shaped cakes on either side. The bride's bouquet rested on the table level of the cake decorations.

Villa Henderson and Judy Watson served the bridal cake.

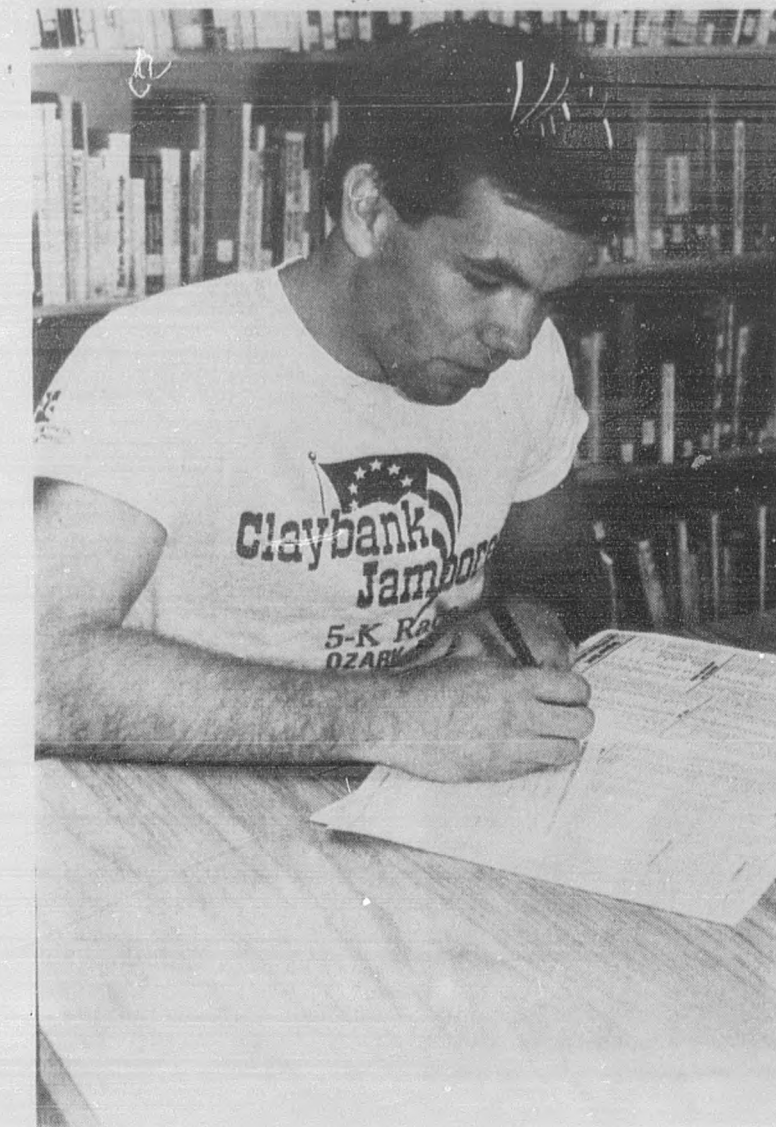

The refreshment table was covered with a beige cloth and beige lace overlay. A crystal punch bowl holding pink punch and encircled with grapes and greenery was placed on one end of the table.

Other refreshments consisted of a watermelon bowl and a cheese ball and crackers, and ham-cheese-and-olive hors d'oeuvres.

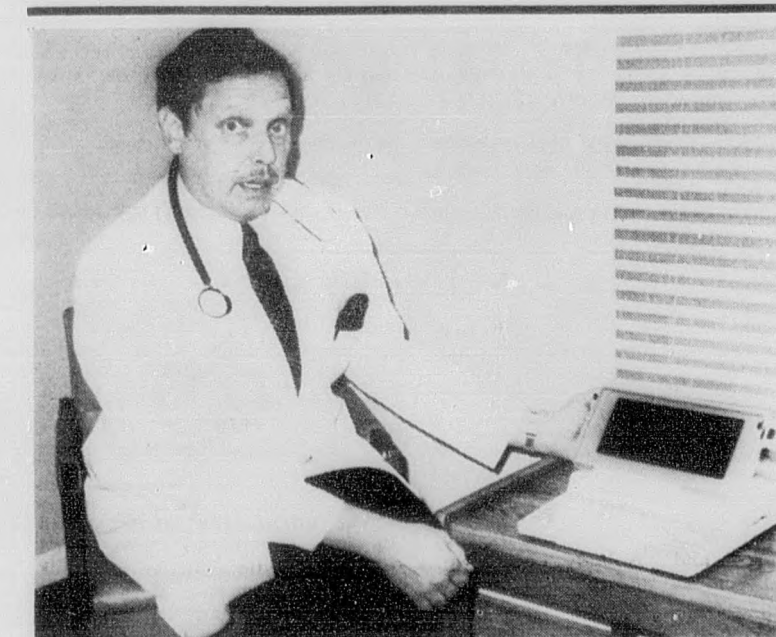

On the other end was the groom's rectangular chocolate cake with frosted grapes cascading around it. Paula Donaldson served the punch, and Susan Sims cut and served the groom's cake.

For her going-away ensemble the bride wore a pink-and-blue pastel dress with a pink sash.

After a wedding trip to the beach, the couple resides in Elba.

New Equipment Expands Services Offered By Dr. Thomas Konicke

Dr. Thomas P. Konicke, the newest member of the medical staff at Elba General Hospital and Nursing Home is proud to announce that the installation of $65,000 of equipment has been completed. His newly established office is located on Drayton Street, in front of the hospital and is once again open following a temporary closure to allow the new equipment to be properly installed.

The new equipment includes IBMAT and XT computers, a Toshiba portable computer and several pieces of sophisticated laboratory devices. The laboratory instruments include: a Clay Adams QBC II System Reader, a Refloton, an EKG machine, a defibrillator, a tonometer and an audiometer.

The computer systems will be used to store patient information such as medications, diagnosis, billing and insurance filings. In addition, they will be beneficial in simplifying appointment scheduling.

The QBC reader is a hematology (blood) screening device providing information about blood components. Within three minutes of testing various chemical components found in the blood can be analyzed by the Refloton.

The EKG machine provides electrocardiograms (a readout of heart functions) while the defibrillator monitors heart rhythms. The tonometer provides glaucoma screening and the audiometer checks for hearing impairment.

With the addition of this new equipment, Dr. Konicke will be able to better meet the needs of his patients. A hospital spokesperson explained, "This is another example of our continuing dedication to providing the quality medical services we know our community deserves."

A Fellow in the American Academy of Family Physicians, Dr. Konicke is an affiliate faculty member of the American Heart Association. He is a participating physician (PMD) for Blue Cross and Medicare and accepts assignment on all Medicare claims.

Persons interested in making an appointment with Dr. Konicke may call 897-3146.

Dr. John Smith Joins Staff

Dr. Smith is a native of Berea, Kentucky, and was graduated from Eastern Kentucky University with a degree in pre-medical science in 1978. He spent the next six years at the University of Louisville in Louisville, Kentucky, for Medical School and two years of radiology residency. The last two years of his residency were completed at the University of South Alabama in Mobile.

Dr. Smith is a member of the American Medical Association and junior member of the American College of Radiology.

Dr. Smith and his wife Janet, and two children, Christopher, age 3, and Katherine, age 1, are making their home in Coffee County. Dr. Smith enjoys hunting, fishing and tennis, but says he hasn't had much spare time since moving to the Wiregrass.

With the addition of Dr. Smith to Wiregrass Radiological

Consultants, P.A., the association will now have time to add new procedures will include radiological biopsy and abscess drainage as well as vascular and urological procedures.

Biopsy and abscess drainage will be accomplished with the aid of the C/T scanner or ultrasound technology. An example of such a procedure might be a lesion located with the C/T scanner; the patient would then be put back on the scanner where the slice showing the lesion is localized. A needle can then be placed directly into the mass and tissue extracted which can be taken to the pathologist to determine if it is malignant or benign.

Abscesses can be drained in the same way. Lesions can also be located by ultrasound and similar biopsy performed.

New vascular procedures will include carotid angiography (x-ray visualization of blood vessels) to determine such things as calcium deposits or blood clots in the blood vessels.

PARENTS: If your total current household income is within the limits listed above, your children may be eligible for either free or reduced-price meals.

They may apply by completing the application forms sent home with a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. The information on the application may be verified at any time during the school year. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In accordance with program regulations school officials will be verifying the income of some households at some time during the school year. Selected households will be requested to provide income documentation in order to continue receiving free and reduced-price meals.

Social security numbers must be provided for all household members 21 years of age or older. If a household member, 21 years of age or older, does not have a social security number, parents must indicate that an application has been made. A parent's signature is required on the application.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

A complete copy of the Policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Superintendent of Education, Elba City Coffee County (system) where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

All questions on the free and reduced price application must be completed. Failure to include information on household members, income or food stamp case number, information on social security, and the signature of an adult household member will result in the denial of benefits.

Alabama Institute For Deaf And Blind Awarded Grant By The W.K. Kellogg Foundation

The Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind has been awarded a five-year grant by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Michigan to establish a model of community-based continuing education and information centers for sensory impaired adults.

The centers are being established based on research which indicates that adults who are hearing or visually impaired are, for the most part, unemployed, underemployed, despite their level of training, education, and ability.

Research further indicates that sensory impairments block the deaf and blind adult's access to full, self-directed participation in community life.

Dothan has been selected as the site to host the project's first rural service center. The Center in Dothan, which is located in the Wiregrass Rehabilitation Center at 805 Ross Clark Circle, East, began in December of 1985 and is currently serving the sensory impaired in a 7 county area--Houston, Coffee, Dale, Henry, Geneva, Covington, and Barbour counties. The Center has begun to assess the service needs of the sensory impaired in regions served, identifying priorities and is attempting to remediate service inequities through expansion and development of services.

Initially, the AIDB/Kellogg Center has begun providing the following services related to or for the sensory impaired within the community: 1. Information and Referral, 2. Counseling, 3. Sign Language Training, and Interpreting Services, 4. Community Continuing Education Programs, 5. Teletypewriter/Telephone Exchange Service, and 6. Development of a Hearing Aid Loaner Service for the Elderly.

Should any of our readers desire more information, tours and/or services from the AIDB/Kellogg Center, you may want to contact either Mary Clark, Regional Director or David Kustay, Center Counselor by either writing them at: P.O. Box 338, Dothan, Alabama 36030, or by telephoning 792-0022/Voice or 677-6270 TDD.

WHITEN SILK

To whiten washable silks and washable wools, soak in a dilute solution of 3 percent hydrogen peroxide, using two ounces of peroxide per gallon of water. Soak for three to four hours, then rinse several times until the water is clear. Roll in a towel and then air dry or press with iron.

WALLPAPER

A large number of homes have some wall treatment wallpaper. I enjoy selecting and even hanging wall paper. Sometimes wallpaper, for some reason, does not want to adhere to the sheet rock wall. County agent Dan Presley told me of his experience with wallpaper in their bathroom which continually left the wall in sections. Several times he reglued, but it didn't stick. Getting rather disgusted, he used a hot iron and glue. It stuck, but a bigger problem arose when his wife Pat wanted new paper hung. The paper would not come off and Dan had to practically chisel it off, thus ruining the sheet rock. Just be sure to use wallpaper glue to hand wallpaper and not a hot glue.

FMHA Housing Funds Restored

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is authorized to reinstate $700 million dollars in previously deferred housing loan funds, DALE N. RICHEY, Alabama State Director of the Farmers Home Administration said recently. In Alabama, $11,516,000 in single family and $8,288,000 in multifamily funds will be reinstated.

These funds will be available to low-income families in rural areas for single family or multifamily housing units, Richey said. The funds, deferred since February, will be available through September 30.

They were released under provisions of the Urgent Supplemental Appropriations Act signed by President Reagan earlier this month.

Richey stated Alabama's allocation of funds for low income category applicants had been depleted and the restoration of these funds will permit FMHA to resume funding these loan applications.

As a mid-July, FMHA in Alabama has made loans of $35 million for housing - $28 million for single family housing and $9 million for apartments for this fiscal year.

Horticulture Tips

DAN PRESLEY

CHRYSANTHEMUM CARE

Take good care of your chrysanthemums now for beautiful blooms. Seporia leafspot is the main disease of these flowers. It causes the lower leaves to become spotted and finally turn brown. Severe infestation by the disease reduces plant vigor and results in few flowers of poor quality.

Control seporia leafspot by spraying every 10 to 12 days with a fungicide such as Benlate or Maneb. Aphids and spider mites feed on chrysanthemum leaves by sucking juices from the plant. These can be controlled with Malathion or Diazinon.

LANDSCAPE TIPS

Spider mites can be a real pest on many ornamental plants, especially during hot, dry periods. Look for mottled, off-color foliage and small webbing in the axils of some leaves or stems. Check for spider mites on landscape plants by tapping some of the lower foliage over a white handkerchief or a piece of paper. If reddish or dark-colored dots begin to move around on the white surface, it's spider mites. They can be controlled with Kelthane.

Summer annuals can be rejuvenated by dead-heading which is removing spent flower blooms. Combined with a regular watering, pest control and a monthly fertilizer application, dead-heading helps keep plants attractive all summer.

FLEA CONTROL

Fleas have been a problem for several Coffee Counties lately. To get rid of fleas, you'll need to treat both your pets and the premises. But start with your pet, because it's the source of fleas in the house.

Use a flea treatment around the animal's ears, between its legs and around its tail. If the treatment doesn't work, contact your veterinarian for suggestions.

On Dogs and cats you can use 5% Malathion dust or 5% Sevin. Don't use Sevin on small kittens. In the kennels and around where animals stay you can use the Malathion or Sevin, especially around where the animals bed.

In your home you can use several different materials which contain pyrethrins, such as a diluted Diazinon spray. In your yard you can use either Sevin or Malathion dust or Diazinon spray.

In order to get rid of the fleas you have to treat the animals, animal quarters and around the yard.

DROUGHT RELIEF

Richard Lying, Secretary of Agriculture, has announced changes in the government program that will give Coffee County drought stricken farmers some relief.

Farmers participating in the Acreage Conservation Reserve and have set aside acreage for soil erosion purposes may now graze or cut hay off that land.

Acreage set aside under the same program may be planted for winter grazing or hay.

Farmers may harvest stunted crops for forage and still be eligible for deficiency payments. They must report all such harvested acreage to their local ASCS office.

Cost sharing will also be available to help pay the cost of replacing new stands of planted trees lost to drought conditions.

Contact the folks at the ASCS office in New Brockton at 897-5581 for details.

POULTRY MANURE AS FERTILIZER

Many area farmers wonder about using poultry manure as fertilizer. Extension Agronomist Charles Mitchell explains that one ton of poultry manure contains about 60 pounds of nitrogen. So, you can apply it to pastures at the rate of four to six tons per acre. Use higher rates on coastal bermuda grass hay fields.

Coffee County broiler producers are making full use of broiler manure on their pastures and row crops. When we finally get some good rain, our pastures will grow rapidly.

PEANUTS

Ron Weeks, our area pest management specialist in Headland, had this to say about foliage feeding worms on peanuts. "Foliage feeding worms are reaching treatable levels in an estimated 10 percent of peanut fields. Levels of 3-4 foot row are not uncommon. Corn earworms (CEW) are still the most abundant species with fall armyworms, but armyworms and granulate cutworms are occurring in less than 10 percent of the total worm population. Decisions to treat for foliage feeders will vary greatly from field to field depending on the size of peanuts and amount of defoliation caused by these worms. Infestation seems very 'spotty' this year, so check each field carefully!"

NEW

We have a new 50 page publication entitled The Financial Condition of Alabama Farmers, 1986. This was prepared by the Farm Management staff and gives detailed information on status of agriculture in Alabama. If you are interested in getting a copy of this, call me at 894-5586 or 1-800-422-0180 and I will put a copy in the mail to you.

COOKING CATFISH

Catfish production is increasing in Coffee County. Dr. John Jensen recently sent some information on various ways to cook catfish. Jensen said, "Catfish are good broiled, stuffed, baked or fried. Catfish are also delicious in casseroles and stews. And because the fish is so tender, it cooks quickly."

Jensen continued, "You can buy fresh or frozen farm-raised catfish in several forms -- pan-dressed, fillets, or steaks. If you allow about three ounces of cooked, boneless catfish as a serving, you'll need to buy one-half pound of pan-dressed or one-third pound of fillets or steaks per serving."

To enhance the flavor of catfish, cook it with small amounts of onions, celery and mushrooms, and herbs such as dill, parsley and tarragon, combined with softened butter.

AVAILABLE HAY

Some Coffee County cattlemen have prepared a lengthy list of in-state hay sources and also out-of-state hay suppliers. If you would like to get a copy of these suppliers, which is complete with the addresses and telephone numbers, call us at 894-5586. If you are calling long distance, call our toll free number 1-800-422-0180.

The high school football season is only two weeks away and that means things at the Clipper office will be even more hectic than usual as we try to line up extra reports, get all our cameras in working order and work out a schedule so that all the area schools get the coverage they deserve. It's a busy time, but it's my favorite time of the year!

PICTURE DAY - THE POOR MAN'S SKYWRITER'S TOUR

The big daily papers used to travel around the SEC on the annual "Skywriter's Tour" while we weekly folks just gassed up the car and paid visits to all the local high schools. Well, it's that time again! Last week I visited Elba and New Brockton, making pictures for the upcoming pre-season football feature and got a chance to talk with both the coaches and players. Here is a quick look at what I saw and heard:

ELBA TIGERS - Coach Mack Wood's Tigers were all decked out in brand new gold pants and really looked sharp! The Tigers didn't have as many players as in years past, but had a lot of good-looking athletes and seemed to be beaming with confidence. All the players remembered last year's final game loss at Alexandria and vowed not to let it happen again. Elba has a tough schedule and is in a new classification (3A); however, the Tigers seem ready to play and appear to have a winning attitude. It looks like another exciting season in Tigertown!

NEW BROCKTON GAMECOCKS - Coach Leavy Boutwell's Gamecocks were all sporting fresh "crewcuts" on picture day and the team had a lot of spirit and enthusiasm. Coach Boutwell told me prior to the picture-taking that this year's team didn't have very much talent, but just smiled when he said the team enjoyed playing the game and had a oneness rarely seen on the high school level. If the Gamecocks can stay healthy and keep the enthusiasm they now have, it might just be a surprising year over at Brockton!

Kinston and Zion Chapel will dress up this week and I'll let ya know next week what the feeling is on the Rebel and Bulldog campuses.

ELBA'S MCKINNON DRAWS PRE-SEASON ATTENTION IN GRID CIRCLES

The pre-season football magazines have begun to hit the newstands and all the magazines feature a section on the top senior players in the nation at all the high schools nationwide. The "Bible" of football fans for many years has been "Street and Smith's" official football yearbook, and included in the top players to watch this season is Elba's Richard McKinnon. McKinnon, a senior, gained over 1600 yards last season for the Tigers and is one of five Alabama players listed among the nation's top high school seniors. One of the other players mentioned will also be remembered by all Elba fans - Tony Young, a running back from Alexandria (yep, that's him!).

EARLIER START WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS OF GIRLS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Elba Recreation Dept. started its girls' softball league season just a couple of weeks ago, and while the league for girls ages 12 and under had a competitive league, the league for girls ages 13-14 drew little attention and did little more than give the girls a chance to get out and hit the ball. I advocated starting the leagues the same date that all the other leagues (Dixie Youth, Babe Ruth, Softball, etc.) start, which is back in May; however, the starting times were pushed back as far as possible and almost forgotten. I realize that Elba doesn't have enough fields for every league to have one of its own, but I guarantee you there are enough fields for all the leagues to start at the same time! Let's quit making the girls' leagues suffer just for the sake of scheduling problems. Work out the problems and treat the girls like they deserve - softball is just as important to them as baseball is to the boys!

IN CLOSING

The football team is working hard every day, the cheerleaders have just returned from camp, and the band is working all day long every day to prepare a super halftime show for the season opener! I don't always get a chance to watch halftime shows, but I'll make sure I watch opening night because the Marching Tigers will be ready!

Football Sign-up

Extended In Elba

Sign up for Little League Football will be held Thursday, August 14, Friday, August 15 and the final date Monday, August 18 at the Rec Center on the Troy Highway, between the hours of 5:00 - 7:00.

Elba High Cheerleaders Named Superstar Squad At NCA Clinic

The Elba varsity cheerleaders attended the National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) clinic held at Auburn University July 29 - August 1 and received 12 blue "superior" ribbons for their outstanding cheerleading ability.

For most of the girls it was their first time at cheerleader camp where over 500 participants from Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Tennessee attended.

Evaluations were held daily and spirit awards were given the second, third and final day.

Elba's young ladies received a superior rating the first night for their proficiency at double stunts in "timing and climbing" class. They also received a superior ribbon for their home cheer.

On the second day the squad learned cheers, chants, double stunts and pom pom routines. At evaluation they won a superior ribbon for their performance of a camp cheer, sideline chant and home cheer. They also received the spirit stick again.

During the third day the girls learned more cheers and chants as well as pyramids and a special boogie routine. Again at evaluation they received a superior ribbon for their performance of a camp cheer, pyramid, sideline chant and home cheer. They also received the spirit stick again.

On the final day the squad received a superior ribbon for their performance of a home cheer and a cheer they had "created" the day before. Each of the eight members of the squad received a superior ribbon for individual performance. When the final awards were given, the Elba squad received the spirit stick to bring home, and with all their superior ribbons, they brought home a "superstar squad" ribbon.

44 Players Report As Elba Tigers Open Preseason Practice

The Elba Tigers opened their second week of pre-season football practice this week with 44 players in camp and Coach Mack Wood reports the early practices have been devoted to conditioning and review of offensive basics.

Spirits Are High At County Grid Camps

The high school football season is still three weeks away for all teams in the county; however, work is going full blast at all the county schools, and at New Brockton and

Zion Chapel spirits are high for returns to the state playoffs.

New Brockton's Coach Leavy Boutwell reported this week that the pay off real quick. "As far as conditioning, about a third of the team reported in excellent shape, while a third were in fair shape and a third were in poor condition. As a whole the team wasn't in as good shape as I'd liked, and that worries me because it hasn't gotten hot yet!"

"We put on the pads Thursday and worked entirely on fundamentals," said Wood. "We did a little work on offense, but primarily we worked on the basics of football - blocking and tackling. This week we plan to continue to work on fundamentals and possibly get in some team offense and defense later in the week. If the weather holds out we might try to scrimmage a little bit Friday."

"Most of our people are willing to work hard to get ready, and by the end of the week we'll know exactly who wants to be a part of this team," Wood declared. "We might not have as much depth as in years past, but the people we line up in the season opener will be ready to play!"

Hamburger Cookout

B.A.I.T. Needs Your Help

The members of the B.A.I.T. (Bass Angling Information Team) Program have supplied Dept. of Conservation, Game and Fish, officials the results of more than 140 club tournaments. The derived data, representing in excess of 750,000 bass fisherman-hours, have been entered into a computer data bank.

More than 2,500 B.A.I.T. members have caught in excess of 4,700 bass exceeding 7,400 pounds, as of August 6.

The data may provide some answers needed by fishery biologists to aid in managing the public reservoirs; it should help identify problem areas and the need for additional fishery research.

Is your bass club a participating member of B.A.I.T.; do the officers send in tournament records? If not, contact your club's officers and urge them to participate. To become a B.A.I.T. team member or acquire more information on the program contact Bill Reeves, Alabama Game and Fish Division, Fisheries Section.

Nursing Home Spotlight

With Shirley Wise

This week, the week of August 14, 1986, our Very Special Person at the Elba Nursing Home is one of the finest, sweetest and kindest gentlemen you'll ever meet anywhere - Mr. Joseph Jefferson McKenzie.

In conversing with Mr. Joseph, his two sons, one daughter and a daughter-in-law, we correctly surmised that he is the patriarch of a very close-knit and loving family, whose members are most supportive and loyal to one another.

Mr. Joseph is a handsome rosy-cheeked gentleman with clear skin, blue eyes, and once-black hair which is now almost entirely white sprinkled with gray.

When we visited him, he was wearing blue pajamas and we commented how nice he looked, to which he so sweetly and humbly replied, "Thank you."

This is something we've noticed in our visits to the nursing home with these dear people -- they are so gentle and polite, very courteous, so appreciative of the smallest act of kindness. You know, I think it is inborn in them, just an innate gentleness of the generation of people, to be genuinely and naturally polite and kind.

Mr. Joseph was born May 24, 1895, in the little town of Westville, Fla., located in Holmes County. He was one of 10 sons and one daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson McKenzie. Mrs. McKenzie was the former Miss Perry Lee Jones.

The nine brothers and one sister, all of whom are deceased, are: Minnie Ola, John William, Andrew Jackson, Thomas Harris, Matthew James, Thomas Lee, Daniel Sanford, Mary Lloyd, and twin brothers, unnamed, who died as infants.

On November 11, 1914, Mr. Joseph wed Miss Eloise Hazelton Simmons, who was born in Coffee County. She was one of nine children -- two boys and seven girls -- born to Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons. Mrs. Simmons was the former Miss Caroline Alfreed Donie Powell.

The two brothers and six sisters of Miss Eloise are: Esker Simmons, Samson; Elzie Simmons, who is now deceased, but lived in Ocoee, Fla.; Lizzie Chaney, who is now deceased, but was living in Coffee Springs at the time of death; May Higgins, who resides in Newville, Fla.; Vilett Driggers, now deceased, but lived near Samson at the time of death; Flora McCall, deceased, living in the Goodman/Samson Community at the time of death; Mildred Creech, who makes her home in Samson; and Willie Creech, who lives in Coffee Springs.

Miss Eloise passed away May 28, 1981, and is lovingly remembered by her family as "a good Christian woman, a kind woman." They recall her as being "a pretty lady with blue eyes and long brownish-auburn-colored hair. She always had long hair," said Janet, her daughter-in-law. "until she entered the nursing home and it was cut. She always wore her hair long."

Mr. Joseph and Miss Eloise shared 66½ years of love and devotion until her death. They were honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a large celebration at the old homeplace, which is located on Rt. 1, New Brocton, about a quarter of a mile from the Goodman Jr. High School.

This long, happy and fruitful union produced seven children -- four boys and three girls. Several of his children inherited his musical ability, as Gladys, a resident of Los Angeles, Calif. She is a retired waitress and the mother of three children. Her husband Jim is retired also, but before retirement he operated a tourist train at the famous tourist attraction in California, Knott's Berry Farm.

Dewey W., now deceased, lived on Rt. 1, New Brocton. He was married to the former Ada Mae Driggers, a New Brocton native. Miss Ada Mae is a homemaker and they had two children, one of whom died as an infant.

Myrtle M. Gunn made her home in Grand Bay, Ala. She is a homemaker and her husband Tom, originally from Atmore, is deceased. He was a retired welder, and they had six children.

Buford T. lives in Panama City, Fla., with his wife, the former Jewell Truett of Enterprise. He is a retired mechanic with Civil Service and Miss Jewell is a homemaker. They are the parents of two children.

Joel M. lives on Rt. 1, New Brocton, with his wife, the former Janet Walden, a New Brocton native. He is self-employed and Janet is employed with Altax in Enterprise. Joel is the father of five children and one step-child.

Jewell Bowden is married to Fred Bowden, an Elba native. They reside on Rt. 1, New Brocton, and Jewell is employed with Kleiner's, and Mr. Fred is retired from the laundry business. They have two children.

William and his wife, the former Peggy Wallace Gibson, originally from the Goodman Community, reside on Rt. 1, New Brocton. He is a self-employed truck driver and Peggy is employed with Kleiner's. He is the father of four children and Peggy has four children from a previous marriage.

All the above makes Mr. Joseph the beloved and loving "Grandpa" and "Poppa" of 25 grandchildren, a household of great-grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Mr. Joseph Jefferson McKenzie

We asked William if his father or mother was the strict one of the family and he quickly replied, "Daddy was the one -- he was sort of strict on our children."

Later we spoke with Max's wife Janet, and asked her to see if Max agreed with that. She laughed and said, "I don't have to ask him -- I've heard him say that many times!" And she went on to elaborate: "Although Mr. McKenzie was strict, none of the children ever thought for one minute that he didn't love them. He disciplined them with love and fairness," she said, quoting Max.

Janet also related that "Max recalls people saying to him about his father: 'Mr. McKenzie was a good, moral man, a good Christian man.'"

Janet remembers a prayer that Mr. Joseph always prayed at mealtimes. She said, "It was a beautiful prayer and a meaningful one. I wish I had written it down, but I didn't, and now I'm unable to remember it." But she remembers that she was impressed and moved by the prayer. She laughed and said, "It was sort of long, and sometimes some of the family would tease him about the length of it, and shortening it, but he never changed it."

She also told us, "You'd have to know Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie to realize what fine people they were. Mr. McKenzie was very well self-educated man. He had a wide vocabulary. He was very good in spelling also."

Max and William had high words of praise for their father. They both said, "He was a real friendly man -- he was good to his neighbors -- he liked to talk. He was a hard worker and a good provider."

And, Mr. Joseph had these very wise words to say about friends and friendship: "You don't lose anything by being a friend. You can't ever have too many friends." We agree with you wholeheartedly, Mr. Joseph!

Truer words were never spoken. Mr. Joseph, according to family members, "had a real good sense of humor -- He always had something going! He loved to laugh and cut-up!"

And, Mr. Joseph is very musical, once being able to play the harmonica, fiddle, and piano. When asked about this, he replied, "I used to be able to play but, I can't now -- I use to be a musician. I still know the notes."

Several of his children inherited his musical ability, as Gladys and William. Mr. Joseph has another characteristic -- he is a whistler. "He whistled all the time. The expression 'while while you work' really applied to him, for he used to whistle continuously," we were told.

Warm, personal, and touching memories from Max, William, and Jewell's childhoods -- "Sitting on the front porch after supper listening to Daddy play his harmonica; taking the steering wheel of the car and telling the children the car was falling apart and just rocking with laughter; going to a funeral and while walking down the road, Mr. Joseph unconsciously just whistling away."

Mr. Joseph used to really like sling shots. He whittled many a sling shot and he really enjoyed playing with them. He used his sling shot to scare the birds out of his pecan trees and family members report that he was "quite accurate with the sling shot." He would laughingly tell them he could shoot a wasp out of the air, they recall him saying.

"Blue" is the color for Mr. Joseph. "Fall" is his favorite season; mentioning the flower azaleas "brought a big smile for his face, for that is his favorite flower. He told us that he most definitely has a 'green thumb' because 'he could stick out a twig and it would grow!'"

He also told us that Christmas was his favorite holiday and food -- just anything, good ole Southern cooking is his dish. He loves anything and never grumbles about his food. His hobbies were "working with flowers, playing the harmonica and making and using his sling shots."

Something funny Janet related to us was that Mr. Joseph would take his meals with different members of the family before coming to the nursing home. One day at dinner, then at supper and at dinner the next day, he had been served snapped beans all three meals and the third time he looked up from his plate with a twinkle in his eye and said, "Well, all I can say is they must have had a special on snap beans this week."

But, she hastened to add that he never complained about any food, he was easy to please and always ate what was placed before him.

Another warm memory of Janet's is that of "eating parched peanuts on a cold winter's night that Mr. McKenzie had cooked over the old pot bellied wood stove. They were so good she remembers."

Mr. Joseph is a member of Goodman Assembly of God Church. He was admitted to the nursing home here on November 6, 1984, moving to Elba from the Wiregrass Nursing Home in Geneva. His roommate is that sweetheart of a gentleman whom we met a couple of months ago, Mr. Zeamus Hudson.

I hope that I captured the essence of Mr. Joseph for you and I do hope through visiting and reading about him and his long and exemplary life that you readers will be blessed and touched by this encounter as I was, and that we'll all make a greater effort to visit the nursing home today!

Happy birthday to Mrs. Isobell Bryan who was 88 years old August 10, and Mrs. Patsie Legear, whose 81st birthday is today!

Thought for the Week: Even though he suffered severely while terminally ill with leukemia, Archbishop Terence Cardinal Cooke emphasized the meaning of life. In his last pastoral letter, he wrote: "The gift of life, God's special gift, is no less beautiful when it is accompanied by illness or weakness, hunger or poverty, mental or physical handicaps, loneliness or old age. Indeed, at these times, human life gains extra splendor as it requires our special care, concern and reverence."
